

Playing with space

Already since 1968 Parthos produces folding doors. From that time Parthos is known as a worldwide supplier of space-saving folding doors.

With Parthos Spacers, you no longer have to take into account the rotation of (cupboard) doors. Where revolving doors can mean a (space)problem, the Spacers from Parthos offer the ultimate solution. In no time you can turn these folding doors into a partition between study, work or play corners and other spaces. They are the ultimate solution for extra space and comfortable living! Spacers hang from a rail so you aren't bothered by annoying floor guides. Our folding doors are a contemporary, stylish asset for your interior.

Spacers are available in different types: Prince, Royal and Classic. All three types of panels connect to one another with steel springs and wooden hinge frames. This unique and patented Parthos invention guarantees smooth operation and a long and problem-free lifespan. Thanks to the wide selection of quality veneers, the Prince, Royal and Classic fit seamlessly in every interior; from modern to classical.

Prince

The Prince is characterised by its elegant, slim-line panels. With the Prince, you are guaranteed an extremely functional space-maker.

Royal

The Royal is a folding door with panache. Its perfectly finished, broad panels give your interior an extra stylish look.

Classic

The Classic is the ultimate combination of privacy and spaciousness. The panes in the broad panels provide a sophisticated incidence of light and give your living or work area extra dimension.

The panes are available in transparent or smoke-coloured shock-resistant acrylic or bevelled glass.

The slim-line panels of the Page 110 give your interior an extra modern look. This functional folding door allows you put your living or work areas to optimal use.

The Page 150 has wider panels than the Page 110. That means this folding door takes up even less space when folded up. Talk about creating space! This stylish folding door enables you to decorate your interior tastefully and very practically.

Do you like lots of light and space? Then be sure to choose the Page 150 Glass. The panes in the panels provide extra light and give your living or work space a contemporary cachet.

All Spacers folding doors are fitted with a locking function. When folded up the panels take up very little space. In short: the best possible way to create space!

Spacers are easy to assemble yourself. The folding door includes clear assembly instructions as well as all the required accessories.

Parthos' Spacers offer you many possibilities. You can determine whether the door closes on the left or right, in the centre or on both sides. Spacers can even be connected at right angles. Curved rails are also possible. Now that's really playing with space!

Even though the Parthos Spacers concept has been on the market for many years, it still offers a suitable solution to almost any contemporary, everyday space issue.
